Luke 15.10

Prayer of the Day

Undaunted you seek the lost, O God,
exultant you bring home the found:
touch our hearts with grateful wonder
at the tenderness of your forbearing love;
grant us delight in the mercy that has found us;
and bring all to rejoice at the feast of forgiven sinners.
We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God for ever and ever. Amen.

A reading from Exodus chapter 32, verses 7 – 14

The LORD said to Moses, 'Go down at once! Your people, whom you brought up out of the land of Egypt, have acted perversely; they have been quick to turn aside from the way that I commanded them; they have cast for themselves an image of a calf, and have worshipped it and sacrificed to it, and said, "These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt!" ' The LORD said to Moses, 'I have seen this people, how stiff-necked they are. Now let me alone, so that my wrath may burn hot against them and I may consume them; and of you I will make a great nation.'

But Moses implored the LORD his God, and said, 'O LORD, why does your wrath burn hot against your people, whom you brought out of the land of Egypt with great power and with a mighty hand? Why should the Egyptians say, "It was with evil intent that he brought them out to kill them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth"? Turn from your fierce wrath; change your mind and do not bring disaster on your people. Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, your servants, how you swore to them by your own self, saying to them, "I will multiply your descendants like the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have promised I will give to your descendants, and they shall inherit it for ever." ' And the LORD changed his mind about the disaster that he planned to bring on his people.

Hear the Word of the Lord
Thanks be to God

Psalm 51, verses 1 – 10

Have mercy on me, O God, in your enduring goodness:
according to the fulness of your compassion
blot out my offences.

Wash me thoroughly from my wickedness:
and cleanse me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my rebellion:
and my sin is ever before me.

Against you only have I sinned
and done what is evil in your eyes:
so you will be just in your sentence
and blameless in your judging.

Surely in wickedness I was brought to birth:
and in sin my mother conceived me.

You that desire truth in the inward parts:

O teach me wisdom in the secret places of the heart.

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean:
wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Make me hear of joy and gladness:
let the bones which you have broken rejoice.

Hide your face from my sins:
and blot out all my iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God:
and renew a right spirit within me.

A reading from the first letter of Paul to Timothy Chapter 1, verses 1 – 2, 12 – 19a

Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the command of God our Saviour and of Christ Jesus our hope,

To Timothy, my loyal child in the faith:

Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

I am grateful to Christ Jesus our Lord, who has strengthened me, because he judged me faithful and appointed me to his service, even though I was formerly a blasphemer, a persecutor, and a man of violence. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, and the grace of our Lord overflowed for me with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. The saying is sure and worthy of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners—of whom I am the foremost. But for that very reason I received mercy, so that in me, as the foremost, Jesus Christ might display the utmost patience, making me an example to those who would come to believe in him for eternal life. To the King of the ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

I am giving you these instructions, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies made earlier about you, so that by following them you may fight the good fight, having faith and a good conscience.

Hear the Word of the Lord

Thanks be to God

Alleluia, alleluia!

God was in Christ, to reconcile the world to himself;
and the Good News of reconciliation he has entrusted to us.

Alleluia!

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Luke, chapter 15, verse 1-10

Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

Now all the tax-collectors and sinners were coming near to listen to him. And the Pharisees and the scribes were grumbling and saying, 'This fellow welcomes sinners and eats with them.'

So he told them this parable: 'Which one of you, having a hundred sheep and losing one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the one that is lost until he finds it? When he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders and rejoices. And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and neighbours, saying to them, "Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep that was lost." Just so, I tell you, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous people who need no repentance.

'Or what woman having ten silver coins, if she loses one of them, does not light a lamp, sweep the house, and search carefully until she finds it? When she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbours, saying, "Rejoice with me, for I have found the coin that I had lost." Just so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.'

For the Gospel of the Lord

Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ

'Whispers of Love' Meditation –

Reflection

There is a difference between silence and emptiness.

Silence is a very busy thing.

It opens us to the exploration of the self.

Emptiness is the vacuum we find when something is missing from our lives and needs to be replaced.

Prayerfully Reverend Ann

WHY WE DO WHAT WE DO THREE KISSES

A kiss is a sign of affection and love. It is also a sign of respect in most cultures and religions. When we gather for the Eucharist, there are "three kisses" that have great symbolic meaning.

These three kisses or forms of greeting occur at three significant points in the eucharistic liturgy.

The first kiss is made at the beginning of the liturgy when the priest approaches the altar. Kissing the altar may seem rather odd. After all, the altar is a material object made of wood, stone, marble, glass or some other substance. True, but the altar also has symbolic meaning. It represents the divine, the presence of God. The altar is consecrated by the bishop when the church is consecrated. The act of consecrating an altar is similar to the baptism of a new Christian. Holy oil or chrism, which is used to make the sign of the cross on the forehead after baptism, is applied to the altar surface. Then a white cloth similar to the white baptismal garment is placed on it. To kiss the altar is to recognise the presence of God and the holiness of the sacred mysteries which are to be celebrated at the altar. So yes, altars are material objects, but they have been set apart for a sacred purpose and kissing the altar is a recognition of its special role and the significance of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ offered for us on the cross. The altar is a place of encounter between heaven and earth. We meet Christ at his altar when we come forward to receive Holy Communion. Our receiving Christ should be an act of great devotion and reverence.

The second kiss is at the reading of the Holy Gospel. Just as we meet Jesus Christ at his table, so we meet him when he speaks to us through the Gospel, the Good News of God's salvation. We stand for the Gospel as a sign of respect. We herald its reading with the Alleluia verse because the Gospel is Good News. We praise Jesus before and after the Gospel is read – "Glory to you, Lord Jesus Christ." When Jesus speaks to us his voice is authoritative. We call Jesus "Lord" recognising that his authority exceeds all earthly authorities and loyalties and allegiances. But unlike many of the authorities in our lives, Jesus is not a "boss" or a tyrant. His Lordship is one of service and sacrifice. After the priest or deacon reads the Gospel, he or she kisses the Book as a sign of devotion to the Word of God: to the Lord, the Living Word, who speaks to us through the written Word.

The third kiss may actually not be a kiss, but rather a handshake or an embrace. We meet Christ at his altar. We meet Christ through the Gospel. And we meet Christ in each other. The Greeting of Peace is a liturgical act which demonstrates our unity as members of the body of Christ. Depending on how well we know the person we are greeting, the form it takes may be a kiss, but probably more commonly, a handshake. The physical action is accompanied by the words, "Peace be with you" with the response, "And also with you." The Greeting of Peace is a liturgical action. It is not a "meet and greet" time. We are using the very same words Jesus did when he greeted his disciples after he rose from the dead: "Peace be with you." The risen Jesus, through the power of the Holy Spirit, once again speaks through us to our brothers and sisters in Christ. When we speak these words to each other, we are saying that we are not just another group of people which happens to meet together as friends. We are the Church of Jesus Christ. Our unity is grounded in that reality, not because we happen to belong to the same football club, or our kids attend the same school. We are family, brothers and sisters in Christ. The Peace moves us beyond ordinary human friendships. We greet those to whom we may or may not feel particularly close. We turn to those around us rather than go in search of our friends. We can only offer the Eucharist after we are reconciled to each other.

Pew Reflections

The Fourteenth Sunday After Pentecost [Pentecost 14] – Sunday 15 September 2019

- Jeremiah 4.11-12, 22-28; Psalm 14;
either 1 Timothy 1.1-2, 12-19a or 1 Timothy 1;
Luke 15.1-10

Paul and Jesus are on message: in Paul's words, 'Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, not condemn them. The readings warn us that the 'foolishness' of persisting in 'doing evil' and ignoring God's way of love and doing good can only end in disaster, for individuals and for the local and wider community and for the earth itself.

- Pray that 'you may fight the good fight, having faith and a good conscience'.
- Give thanks for the Hong Kong Sheng Kung Hui, the Anglican Church of Hong Kong, giving thanks for their work and witness
